New Film Depicts El Camino History

Four alumni of El Camino College have produced a film in a newly completed part dealing with the operation of El Camino College during the past 20 years.

Featured are: Jan Ruebsamen of Torrance, a June graduate of El Camino; Mrs. Sarah Lieberman of Hawthorne, who attended El Camino from 1958 to 1963; Dave Quinlan, a 1963 graduate and a Torrance resident, and Frank Barbosa of Lawndale, who attended the college from 1961 to 1964.

Entitled "The Student and El Camino," the 16-minute color motion picture was produced for the college by William Cox Productions. It shows the beginning of a community college with less than 1,000 students and traces its development during the past two decades into one of the leading two-year colleges in the nation with more than 1,500 students.

"EL CAMINO observes its 20th year of operation this year and we hope that this film will carry to the community the message of the college," Dr. Stuart E. Mar-

El Camino offers a great many services to local residents in addition to college classes. This film attempts to show some of these services," she stated.

Use of the film is available free of charge to local school, church and community clubs and organizations. Further information or a request for the film may be made by calling the public information office at the college.

THE COLLEGE was founded in 1946, and classes were moved to the present campus at Crenshaw and Redondo Beach boulevards the following year. The film shows portions of early footage of the groundbreaking ceremonies and the installation of the World War II barracks which served as classrooms until permanent buildings were constructed.

One unique aspect of the college which the film points out is that the present 22 buildings on the 92-acre campus, valued at more than $15 million, were constructed without any debt to the local college district. Financed on a pay-as-you-go system, the building program has been financed by a series of voter-

Tarter Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

Hi Tartars! Welcome back to school. Along with the 573 Freshman, a special hello goes to a new member of our senior class. She is Barbara Patek, our foreign exchange student from West Germany. Barbara is living with Fresh Susan Fleming and her family.

THIS YEAR is Torrance High School's 50th Anniversary and Tartarville is celebrating it big. A school wide candy sale will open soon—possibly next week. Grand prize is a trip to Catalina for two.

approved tax-overrides, and as each structure was completed, it was paid for. "The results of this type of financing has been a great savings to the local taxpayers by doing away with costly interest payments on outstanding bonds," Dr. Marsee added.

AGAIN THE Unified Dues Plan is being offered at THS. For only $10.50 a Tartar may purchase an ASB card (activities pass), an annual, and make a partial payment of his Senior Dues which goes towards—graduation events. A $2 saving is gained with this bargain. "Don't lose, Buy Unified Dues."

FRIDAY NIGHT, Warfle's Wildcats meets West High Warriors on our home field. The evening will be topped off by an after-game dance, sponsored by The Varsity Club.

See you next week . . .
